

Entry Level Computer Science Graduate

Summary:

Santa Cruz Biotechnology, Inc. has an immediate opening for an entry level Computer Science graduate to assist with a wide variety of support activities across the company's websites. This is a full time, entry-level position with the possibility of career advancement in the company.

Required Skills and Qualifications:

- Ability to make adjustments to existing program configurations and identify opportunities for new applications of the system
- Ability to develop and maintain the company's electronic procurement system, including Requisitioning, Purchase Order, Payables, and Supplier Management modules
- Ability to work with department members to develop email blast campaigns
- May support computer users, answering general application and operating questions, installing new systems, and troubleshooting

Desired Skills and Qualifications:

- Familiar with standard industry protocols like XML, cXML, EDI, and OCI is a plus
- Relational database experience preferably MySQL
- Performance driven, motivated, and a team player
- Creative solutions to problems and thinking outside the box
- Ability to be conscious of timelines and deliverable milestones
- Excellent communication skills

Education/Experience:

- Bachelor's degree in Computer Science or any satisfactory combination of experience and training which demonstrates the knowledge, skills and abilities to perform the above duties.

Benefits:

Medical, Dental, and Vision insurance, life insurance, paid holidays, sick and vacation time, 401k, referral bonus, Flexible Spending Account, tuition reimbursement, and company provided food. Advancement opportunities exist.

Visit our website at www.scbt.com.

Please submit a cover letter and resume (MS Word or pdf files).